

Supplementary figure 1. (a) The set up for taking images of butterfly specimens. The colour chart was set at the same height as the wing surface of the specimen. (b) The raw image. (c) The image for input pre-processed through retouching, tilt correction, and cropping.